You tested negative for COVID-19

This may mean you were not infected at the time your test was performed. It is possible that you were very early in your infection at the time of your test and that you could test positive later, or you could be exposed later and then develop the illness. It is still strongly advised that you monitor your health and practice social distancing.

Next Steps

1 Follow your doctor's orders
Your healthcare provider will tell you what to do next.

2 Practice social distancing
Social distancing means to stay away from other people as much as you can. Social distancing is important because it slows
